HFA Sets Next Generation NOW Events for Spring High Point Market

(Roseville, CA, April 2, 2018) — The Home Furnishings Association (HFA) has announced their Next Generation-NOW (NGN) networking and educational schedule for the Spring High Point Market 2018. Every Market HFA hosts events specifically for the future leaders and young professionals in the Home Furnishings Industry.

Sunday join industry influencers, Taylor Ganz Senior Vice President, Profitability Consulting Group, or Howard Haimsohn Owner, Lawrance Furniture for the NGN Lunch with Leaders event 11:30am - 1:00pm. Attendees will have the opportunity to share a one-on-one working lunch with industry veterans and make connections that will help them in their pursuit of growth in the home furnishings industry.

Sunday evening April 15th NGN is hosting their Market Bash at the Bienenstock Furniture Library. Networking and drinks will be available from 6:00pm-9:00pm in the Pat Plaxico Gardens. The Bernice Bienenstock Furniture Library is the largest furniture specialty library in the world. This is one of the few, if not the only place in the world where design professionals, scholars, students, and the public can don a pair of white gloves and examine the original works of the pioneer designers in our industry. Pre-market registration is highly suggested.

“Networking with peers and getting the opportunity to meet with leaders in our industry are so important for our community of young professionals,” said Next Generation NOW member Alex Macias, Del Sol Furniture. “While we obviously come to markets to see and buy new product, we’re also here to work on building relationships that will benefit the future of the industry.”

Young professionals and NGN members can learn more about both events, register or more about other exciting HFA sponsored Next Generation Now programs at: <https://myhfa.org/next-generation-now-events/> or by contacting Donna Ganyo at (800) 422-3778 or dganyo@myhfa.org.
